Preamble

Millets possess immense potential in our battle against climate change and poverty and provide food, nutrition, fodder and livelihood security. Recognizing the nutritional value of Millets, the Government of India revalorised Millets as "Nutri-cereals" in 2018. In this context, it is significant to note that the proposal of Government of India to United Nations for declaring 2023 as International Year of Millets was supported by 72 countries and United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) declared 2023 as International Year of Millets with a view to popularize millets throughout the globe and inspire all stakeholders involved in Production, Processing, Value addition, Marketing and Distribution. The value of millets are evident in their relevance to the sustainable development goals (SDGs) of food security, nutrition and sustainability. In this background, ICAR-Krishi Vigyan Kendra, UHS (B), SDUAHER, Kolar, ICAR-ATARI Zone-XI and COH, Kolar have taken a step forward in organizing International Conference on Millets, which will bring together experts to explore the potential of mighty millets for sustainable food systems, biodiversity conservation and climate resilience. The conference will focus on interdisciplinary approaches and cross-sectoral collaboration to promote millet-based solutions for global food and nutritional security.

About the Society for Plant Research (SPR& VEGETOS)

Society for Plant Research was established in the year 1988 by Prof. S K Bhatnagar, Founder & Secretary General with the view to provide an open platform to the researchers in various disciplines of Botany, Plant Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Plant Biotechnology etc. for publishing their researches in the journal VEGETOS. Besides this, organizing Conferences and Workshops under the aegis of Society for Plant Research (SPR) is an essential activity to facilitate scientific discussions, exchange of views and interaction among scientists. The journal VEGETOS started its publication in 1988 and at present this journal has achieved International recognition and has become the most trusted periodical of Plant Sciences and Biotechnology. With an initial membership of 11 persons it has now reached more than 1800 from India and abroad. The journal VEGETOS, is now being processed, published and marketed by the global publisher Springer since January 2019 thus strengthening its global authorship. VEGETOS is listed in SCOPUS, PubMed, MIAR, NAAS, UGC-CARE and all major databases.
