10. Highlights of the event including photos The workshop commenced with an inauguration by Dr. Prabhakar K, Dean, Faculty of Medicine, SDUMC, Dr. K N V Prasad, IQAC Coordinator, SDUAHER, and Dr.Sarala, Director of Academics, SDUAHER. Following the inauguration, an invocation song was played to set a positive and inspiring atmosphere. The first session was conducted by Dr.Vinutha Shankar and focused on personality traits. She discussed various aspects of personality traits, their definition, and their impact on an individual's behavior and preferences. Next, Dr. Prasad conducted a session on leadership types and strategies. He delved into the different leadership styles and effective approaches to lead and manage teams successfully. Following that, Dr.Sarala took a session on the stakeholder matrix, which covered ways to identify and analyze stakeholders in various projects and understand their roles and interests. After a well-deserved lunch break, the afternoon session commenced with Dr. Suresh sharing insights on effective leadership strategies. He provided valuable guidance on how to lead and inspire others in different contexts. Dr.Ashwini K Shetty then spoke about the appreciative inquiry model, which involves focusing on strengths and positive aspects to drive personal and organizational development effectively. Dr. Vinutha returned for another session, this time covering the concept of positive deviance. She discussed how individuals and organizations can identify and learn from those who have achieved exceptional results despite facing similar challenges. The final session of the day was on managerial skills, led by Dr.Sarala. Participants learned essential skills and techniques to enhance their managerial capabilities. Throughout the day, all sessions actively involved the participants with tasks, group discussions, and interactive exercises. The workshop provided a comprehensive and engaging learning experience for all attendees. The feedback was taken through google form post sessions and overall feedback receive was good.
