On the occasion of World TB Day 2025, the Department of Respiratory Medicine/ NTEP unit in association with Department of General Medicine is celebrating World TB Day on 24th March 2025. The theme of World TB Day 2025 - “Yes! Following the commitments made by Heads of State at the UN High Level meeting in 2023 to accelerate progress to end TB, this year WHO focuses on turning these commitments into tangible actions, and so do we. Building on its massive uptake and success over the last two years, this year's theme reinforces a powerful collective message of hope, urgency, and accountability. Let us come together to actively take forward the mission and do our bit. Come join us in the CME on –
