

FINANCIAL EDUCATION FOR MEDICAL FRATERNITY

Introduction:

Doctors, despite being the brightest students often struggle with finance. It is a myth that finance is difficult to comprehend and is confusing. In this course, we aim to break down the concepts of finance into simpler modules which are practical and essential in life. This includes capital protection, long term investment, legal tax saving schemes and retirement planning.

Once a doctor achieve financial freedom, they can devote attention towards patient care and improvement of medical knowledge.

Objectives of the Course:

By the end of this course, the students will be able to understand

1. Basic financial concepts
2. Need for financial education among doctors
3. Need for savings and investments
4. Macroeconomics
5. Basics of banking, taxation and insurance
6. Don'ts in Finance management
7. Concept of health with wealth
